

BlackMark+™ Redaction Solutions

Flexible redaction for your sensitive information

Are you facing security concerns or have been recently legislated to redact sensitive information? If so, PaperFree offers a highly effective and inexpensive redaction solution designed to provide exceptionally dependable results for both business and government. BlackMark+ is one of the most powerful automated 'Free Form' solutions currently available and features many new and improved options.

Automatically redact sensitive fields from anywhere on the document

Through the use of EMC's Dispatcher product suite, PaperFree's BlackMark+ redaction solution searches entire documents locating key information and then automatically redacts sensitive fields with the highest level of accuracy. Whether it's a single page or multi-page document, BlackMark+'s automated approach significantly reduces or eliminates the time users spend manually reviewing and correcting documents.

Features

- Performs unlimited redactions
- Move or Delete redactions
- Save images at any point in the process
- Print and Print Preview capabilities
- Configurable redaction colors and opacity options
- Document rejection functionality
- Image Viewing: Zoom, Rotate, Fit to Window
- Add customized text annotations
- Retains both original and redacted/annotated images
- Maintains redaction coordinates for downstream processing

Market Leader

PaperFree offers two types of redaction solutions:

- Structured Forms Redaction Solution

This is the simplest means to redact but provides the least amount of flexibility. It applies to those instances where all incoming documents for redaction are in a structured, consistent, repeatable design. The redaction can be done either manually or through the use of OCR/ICR technology which searches in a defined and 'isolated' method to redact certain fields that occur in the same area on the same document type every time.

- Free Form Redaction Solution (unstructured form types)

This is the most difficult and often complex means of redaction. It applies to instances where the incoming documents have no structure, consistency or repeatability in their design. Thanks to new technology developed by both PaperFree and EMC, there is now the ability to provide automated means to redact for 'Free-Form' documents in a very efficient and cost effective manner.

Flexibility

BlackMark+ is designed around and can be provided as a full-featured robust data capture platform allowing the ability to customize and add flexibility to your system such as:

- The ability to provide special workflow and/or review queues
- The flexibility to review and manually redact when human confirmation is an absolute requirement
- Create and post redacted versions to your publicly accessible repository while simultaneously preserving and storing the official record in a separate and secure archive

Cost Effective

BlackMark+ is not only more technologically advanced than any other redaction solution, it is also much more cost effective. PaperFree provides solutions with a simple and effective one-time licensing structure with no click charges. You can automatically extract and export key information from your documents and reduce the trouble and expense of manual data entry and indexing all for about the same price as most 'redaction-only' solutions are sold for today!
